

About Wildflower House in Historic Loveland

A one-of-a-kind place for women and girls to bloom

Imagine that you have been handed a seed and told that it was one-of-a-kind – the only one on the planet — and very, very valuable.

What would you do with this tiny precious package of potential? How would you wake it up and grow it? Chances are, you would seek to discover — through trial and error — how much light, how much water, what kind of soil allowed it to thrive. It would not occur to you to accuse the seedling of being too sensitive to drought; of needing too much light; far from it! Rather, you would take this seed that you have and do your very best to nurture it so that it can become the flower that is within it to be.

That's what classes, coaching, and counseling at Wildflower House are all about. Whether that seed is yourself or whether it is your daughter, we work together here to find out how to create an environment where you can grow and thrive and bloom into the unique blossom you are meant to be. It is a sacred endeavor.

Located in historic Loveland, Ohio at 111A N. Wall Street., Wildflower House is a cozy studio to support your personal development, a place to bloom.

Wildflower House is a place where women and girls are invited to be exactly who they are, speak their thoughts, and feel empowered to manifest what is in their hearts – and who, upon leaving again, are more able to be themselves out in the world – and give themselves to the world. It is a place where you can feel complete.

Wildflower House strives to be a source of energy, inspiration, and transformation for women who will not stand for their children being forced into a mold; who will be deeply committed to eliciting each child's voice, each child's self; women who are finding the courage to know themselves and to be precisely who they are, quirks inclusive, without apology.
